

Bio: Ayesha Bedwei

Profile:

Ayesha Bedwei is a Partner in PwC based in Ghana and specialises in Tax advisory services, essentially helping her clients efficiently manage their tax matters.

Ayesha is also PwC's Africa Diversity and Inclusion leader and holds regional leadership positions within PwC as a member of the West Africa Management Board and the leader for Corporate Responsibility in West Africa.

Other leadership positions

President, American Chamber of Commerce, Ghana, 1 January 2020.

Experience

With over 20 years' experience in the finance and accounting field (14 being in PwC), Ayesha has been involved in a wide range of projects and has built up a network of influential clients and associates during her professional career. Ayesha has also gained a wealth of experience in the Energy field due to her involvement in Ghana's oil and gas sector from its inception in 2007 to date. In addition, Ayesha services multinational clients across a wide range of industries including fast moving consumer goods, telecommunications, and manufacturing.

Other Experiences

Ayesha regularly contributes to articles in Ghana's business print media and appears on Television programs discussing various issues including Tax, Corporate Responsibility, Career Development and Diversity and Inclusion.

In 2017, Ayesha founded the Careers Advisory Blog, www.careers1825.com, to provide honest and relatable career advice to young Africans between the ages of 18 and 25.

Also, in 2017, Ayesha added the title "TedX Speaker" to her list of experiences by speaking at the TedX Accra event on the importance of Diversity and Inclusion in the Work place.

In 2018, Ayesha became a member of the Migration task force of the Think 20 (T20), a group of policy think tanks which advise the Group of twenty (G20).

More recently, January 2020, Ayesha was appointed as a member of the Mastercard Foundation Advisory Committee.

